setting fire to the house afterwards, was hanged here to-day. He went to the send-fold with a firm step, and to the very last maintained the nerve that has characterized him as one of the most remarkable criminals of this country.

The crime for which Weber puld the penalty was committed November 19, 194, at Auburn, Flacer county. Fire was discovered in the readence of Julius Weber, a wealthy retired merchant, Inside the burning building were found the dead bodies of Mrs. Julius Weber, her daughter, Berith and little son, Earl. Two days later the body of Julius Weber was found. Mrs. Weber and Bertha had been shot. Earl had been beaten to death.
